UL and Safety Certifications for Rockwell Automation products

Question:

- How can a customer check for UL Certification on Rockwell Automation products?
- How can a distributor check for UL Certification on Rockwell Automation products?
- How can a Rockwell Automation employee check for UL Certification on Rockwell Automation products?
- How can a customer check for Safety Certification on Rockwell Automation products?

Answer:

UL Certification and Safety Certification information as well as other product certification information is available on the Rockwell Automation public web site at <http://ab.rockwellautomation.com/> or <http://www.ab.com>.

To get to the Product Certification page click this direct link. Some product certificates exist on this web site. However, for UL Certificates, you must go to the UL web site. The link to the UL web site is on the Rockwell Automation Product Certifications page.
